

Take a PROACTIVE approach to keep firefighters and the public safe.

Ashland Industrial Services

Ashland Industrial Services is a multidisciplinary vertical transportation company whose staff provides international leadership in safety training, inspections, consulting, and project management.

Ashland's staff—comprised of specialists in Elevator Mechanics, Higher Education, Psychology, and Firefighting Science, among other disciplines—has developed the Elevator Emergency Education (EEE) Course, the first elevator emergency course for firefighters endorsed by the International Union of Elevator Constructors (IUEC):

The current lack of elevator safety training among firefighters could result in injuries and deaths. Ashland, with the support of the IUEC, has developed the Elevator Emergency Education (EEE) Course to keep firefighters, elevator mechanics, and passengers safe. Through taking the course, firefighters will learn components and hazards of elevators related to their job duties during an emergency and develop a proactive mentality for responding to stuck elevator calls.

Course Structure:

- Lecture (45 min.): introduction to types of elevators and associated hazards, and developing a proactive mentality for elevator emergency response
- Hands-on Modules (120 min.): immersion in components and hazards of elevators related to firefighters' job duties during an emergency

- I Module I: Elevator Machine Room and Associated Hazards
- II Module II: Hoistway, Car, Car Top, & Pit and Associated Hazards
- III Module III: Fire Service Phases I & II and Associated Hazards
- IV Module IV: Emergency Power System and Associated Hazards

Course Outcomes:

- Improvement of situational awareness during elevator responses.
- Improvement of safer operations while operating in elevator environments.
- Development of a PROACTIVE approach to keep firefighters and the public safe.
